Rafael Gallo [1]

President, Rios Tropicales
Costa Rica

Rafael Gallo has been a leading conservationist, visionary, entrepreneur, and change maker in Costa Rican adventure tourism for over 30 years. As the co-founder and President of Rios Tropicales, Rafael passionately leads the company to go further to protect, educate, conserve, reforest, and support local communities through his modeling of engaged citizenship in planet earth. Since 1985, Mr. Gallo, as President and co-founder of Rios Tropicales has led the protection of over 2,000 acres (800 hectares) of primary and secondary rainforest. Through his adventure company and involvement with key conservation, sport, and tourism organizations, Mr. Gallo has led various groups, organizations, events, tourists, and residents have together planted and cared for more than 20,000 native species of trees to mitigate over 125,000 thousand tons of carbon annually over the past two decades.

TrainingAid News & Updates

Join over 2300 Industry professionals who receive monthly information on training and capacity building opportunities in tourism.

Subscribe

About TrainingAid