Melissa Kirr [1]

Senior Programs Director of Sustainability, Walking Mountains Science Center
Avon, Colorado, USA

Melissa Kirr is the Senior Programs Director of Sustainability at Walking Mountains Science Center in Avon, Colorado. She currently works at a local, regional and global level on a variety of sustainability initiatives. In her role at Walking Mountains, she is responsible for the oversight of sustainability-focused programs/projects that include Energy, Climate Action, Actively Green Sustainable Business Training and Certification, Waste Diversion and Zero Waste programs, and Mountain IDEAL Sustainable Destination.

She has spent the past 17 years working in the non-profit sector, specifically the environmental and sustainability realms. She holds degrees in Forest Resource Management from Penn State University and the University of Montana. She also volunteers her time to food equity projects, serves on other boards of sustainability non-profits and the Colorado State’s Pollution Prevention Advisory Board.

Walking Mountains Science Center [2]
LinkedIn - Melissa Kirr [3]

TrainingAid News & Updates

Join over 2300 Industry professionals who receive monthly information on training and capacity building opportunities in tourism.

Subscribe